Weekends 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 pm CST. 1-877-825-5572 Free Travel in the United States After four decades of sharing this evolving work with thousands of men and women in private intensive and live events, David Deida offers his most comprehensive men's job training in an online format suitable for the needs of this time. This online training is designed to help you embody and advance into the ideas and practices at the center of David's work first outlined more than 20 years ago in the book, The Way of the Higher Man. This course offers additional depth and precision based on a collection of exercises from the last living male retreats, as well as four live WAKE calls. In today's world of heightened fear and economic uncertainty, the lessons of this programme are more relevant than ever. What does it mean to be sexually valuable in a post-gender world? How can you manage your current sexual desire or lack thereof? How to go through depression and meaninglessness as direct portals to awakening consciousness? What do you need to do or become so that you can die completely? Is your true goal easy? In this course, you will receive extensive teachings and instructions on: Exploring the differences between the deepest purpose of your life and the more superficial goals Accessive conscious presence in all financial, sexual and emotional conditions Kultivating esoteric solo and affiliate sexual practice of yoga Navigation of altered states, gain and loss of purpose, and sexual obsession To conceive immediate access to the primary energy of your own deep being You can read more about all the details of the program below. We look forward to meeting many of you in this training. In gratitude, David Deida's team Feel that you want to give the most as a gift, for your woman and for the world, and do your best to give it today. Every moment has waited a moment for nothing, and every wasted moment impairs your clarity of purpose. When you harness the vast emptiness of deep consciousness that is your true self, all your behavior and your approach to life change. You become grounded and unshakable in your Truth, as well as a living source of your truth. The way of the Higher Man is a way of cultivating a complete trust in the reality that lives by you right now. No matter how extensive it may be, reality is happening now and it involves you. It's not just about how to have the best sex, although your sexual experience can unfold as revelations in the male-female mystery of love, and your erotic abilities can suddenly delve beyond your born physical form. It's not just about how to pick women, although you can become increasingly reliable and magnetic, deeply embodying your conscious presence. It's not just about how to communicate with your partner, although these teachings can go deep your ability to subtly read your partner's heart and body, so a few words are ever needed. Their ideas seem to answer some of the collective questions hanging in the culture. Their books and seminars become an underground noise, and over a period of time their ideas become part of our cultural language. David Dada is such a man. Marianne Williamson, as we enter a new frontier in expression of consciousness, men and women face new challenges and opportunities for growth and expansion. As old roles of men and women quickly dissolve, new styles of sexual expression emerge. Women take the lead. Men who are no longer the sole breadwinners or the most oriented members of the household need to rediscover their value, both in the world and in relationships. When a person's value is no longer measured by what he does, his finances or social status as he its value? In our new world, the presence of man - his depth of awareness - is his most valuable asset. The value of man can be found in his Being. A small man, easily indignant and swaying, stands less for his woman and his world than a man whose presence is deeply ingrained. Your deep and steady gaze conveys more truth than furtive eyes. Your full, even breath is trusted more than petty, nervous choking. Based on the unfathomable mystery of life, you will learn to be in contact with the expanses of death rather than fling from one busy superficial activity to another. You grow to be a source in your own depth. The path of the Supreme Man is a way of deep gaze, breathing and purpose. It can't be tampered with. Right now, you're either knowing who you are at depth or you're avoiding it. We all taste God, taste the Goddess, taste pure Spirit in those moments of sexual delight, and wise men and women have always used this admiration to reveal the innermost secrets of the Spirit. David Dada is so wise. Ken Wilber, recognized as one of the most astute and provocative teachers of our time, bestselling author David Dade continues to revolutionize the way that men and women grow up spiritually and sexually. His ten books are published in more than twenty-five languages around the world and require reading on courses at universities, churches and a spiritual center. His workshops on radically practical spirituality have been regarded as one of the most original and genuine contributions to self-development today. Deida is included in the Spiritual 100 list in the Watkins review, which includes the most spiritually influential people around the world. He is a founding member of the Integral Institute, has taught and conducted research at the University of California San Diego School of Medicine, the University of California-Santa Cruz, the University of San Jose, the Lexington Institute in Boston and the Polytechnic School in Paris, France. Some of his recent books include Blue Truth, The Enlightened Sex Guide, and the 20th anniversary edition of the international bestseller, The Way of the Supreme Man.
